

NOTES ON CONTRIBUTORS

Dennis Bartels is an anthropologist who teaches at Memorial University of Newfoundland, Sir Wilfred Grenfell College. He is co-author, with Alice L. Bartels, of When the North was Red: Aboriginal Education in Soviet Siberia (1995).

Pippa Bennett is a PhD student at Birkbeck College, University of London. Her research focuses on William Morris's late prose romances and their relevance to his revolutionary politics. She has worked as a teacher of English and as an adviser for the sustainability charity 'Forum for the Future'.

Peter Faulkner taught in the School of English at the University of Exeter and is the Honorary Secretary of the William Morris Society.

Ruth Kinna is Lecturer in Political Thought at Loughborough University. She is the author of William Morris: The Art of Socialism (2000) and is currently researching the ideas of Ernest Belfort Bax as well as socialist conceptions of patriotism.

Peter Lawrence is the Managing Director of Oxford Designers & Illustrators, a specialist educational book design company. He is also a member of the Society of Wood Engravers and the Royal Society of Painter-Printmakers.

Jan Marsh has published widely on the Pre-Raphaelites and their circle. Her most recent major works are Dante Gabriel Rossetti: Painter and Poet (1999) and an edited edition of the Collected Writings of Dante Gabriel Rossetti (1999).